MASTER OF DEFEAT

Our Ambassador to the United Nations said on May 3, "The United States will suffer more and more adverse votes in the United Nations. With nearly half of the world organization - 99 members from Africa and Asia, the West will no longer dominate."

Sunday night, on Meet the Press, this same man hemmed and hawed his way through a series of questions sounding out his views on admitting Communist China to the United Nations. Through the "ers and ahs and uhs" it became clear that he is committed to defend a position of the U. S. government that he does not hold. We regret the haste in which Mr. Stevenson wrote off Africa and Asia in May. We are disgusted that he is willing to write off Nationalist China right now. We are bound to admit that our ambassador is a good loser as he has proved so very many times when he was fighting for something he believed in.

There is something that can be done to keep a murdering, outlaw government from taking a powerful seat in the United Nations. We can make it clear through a fighter in the Senate that the American people are sick of defeat caused by a weak and vacillating defense of our position. As a last resort, we have a veto in the United Nations which we have never used. Before that, we have an obligation to fight to preserve some meaning in an organization which is supposed to exert a moral influence on the world. If the nations of the world decide that Red China is fit to exert its morals in the U. N., all of the sacrifice of the United States in its aid programs has been wasted and should be written off. We should also write off the U. N.

Please write to Senator Barry Goldwater, Senator from Arizona, and tell him briefly your position on admitting Red China to the United Nations.

MATTAPOISETT GIRL ENTERS SCHOOL OF NURSING

On September 10th, 46 students of the class of 1964 entered the Peter Bent Brigham School of Nursing in Boston to start their 3-year nurses' training. They were welcomed by the faculty at a tea given by the school alumnae and were greeted by their "big sisters" who will help guide them in their new student life.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital is renowned for its teaching and research in metabolism, kidney transplantation and heart surgery. It is affiliated with Harvard Medical School as one of its Seven Associated Teaching Hospitals.

Among the girls entering the school was Miss Ruth Ann Heuberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Heuberger of Mechanic Street, Mattapoisett. Ruth Ann was graduated in June from Fairhaven High School.
